

CRITIQUE SALON

AUTOBODY
FINE ART

Do you want to get feedback on your artwork? Have you been out of school, making fantastic pieces but only have your friends to discuss the work with. Maybe you want to end up showing in a gallery but don't know how to go about it, or maybe you're confused about how art theory and criticism can help inform and complete a piece of visual art.

The Wednesday Evening Critique group is the way to go! Loosely structured as a graduate level critique, participants are encouraged to bring completed work in (one or two pieces), and then the group will discuss the work in terms of aesthetics, audience reception, critical theory and concept. All criticism will be constructive and, in the spirit of former critiques at UCLA, we'll have wine and beer to help the conversation along.

When: Every Fourth Wednesday, 6-9 p.m. Cost: $5 non-members, Members Free
